

1) Create database that describe class diagrams for Banking Account Management Systems (done some days before).

2) Write a Python Application terminal based that manages employee and departments in previous exercise. You can add employee and departments, update and delete employee and search an employee using name or name part.